

“When I was young, my ambition was to be one of the people who made a difference in this world. My hope is to leave the world a little better for having been here.”
-Jim Henson

Hope can be a powerful tool, a motivator for each of us in different ways, to achieve great things. When we committed to Within Reach, our plan to provide access to food for everyone in Southern Colorado facing hunger, we were certainly motivated by hope. And hope continues to move us forward. But to achieve what we must, to do what is right, will take much more than hope. Realizing Within Reach takes careful planning, skillful execution of plans, and the passionate investment of everyone who makes up the Care and Share community.

On March 10th Care and Share will once again host Recipe for Hope, our annual luncheon. We will provide an update about our work during the past year and hear inspiring stories from people whose lives have been changed because their community cared. Lives made better and progress realized towards important goals because of people like you. Each Recipe for Hope guest will be given an opportunity to make an investment in the work of Care and Share, in the lives of people we all serve together, and towards the accomplishment of Within Reach. Will you please join us?

If you'd like to hear about how you can help make the world a better place, we hope you will make time to attend the 2016 Recipe for Hope Luncheon. Details can be found here (link to invite). Contact Shannon Brice, shannon@careandshare.org to reserve your seat today. And thank you for being our partner in this hopeful, and achievable, journey.
