We believe that no one should go hungry.

Every day, we provide food to our partner agencies across Southern Colorado to serve our neighbors in need because well-fed communities are better for us all.
Dear friends of Care and Share,

It is our pleasure to present to you the 2014-15 Care and Share Food Bank Annual Report, which highlights the first year of our five-year plan: Within Reach. This was a year of milestones, all of which were only possible because of your support. We provided access to food for more people than ever before. A record number of volunteer hours were invested in achieving our mission. Through important collaboration, with more than 300 Southern Colorado partner agencies, we provided more than 17 million meals to our neighbors in need.

We partnered. We provided. We served. We educated. With your partnership, we made a difference. At Care and Share Food Bank, we believe that no one should go hungry. We are grateful that you too share this belief, as well as our vision for a future where all of our neighbors in need have access to the food they need to thrive.

Knowing that I could come to the free mobile food pantries to get fresh produce and other items, I could still feed my family the way I was accustomed to feeding them without worry about my grocery bill.
One in six Southern Coloradoans are at risk of hunger. Care and Share helps assure they have access to enough healthy and nutritious food to thrive. We know that children without adequate access to food cannot develop successfully, families cannot plan for their future, and seniors find it more difficult to remain independent.

I think it’s important to find something you really believe in that you are passionate about and then commit to it. I do think that consistency is a huge part of commitment. Food is such an essential, such a fundamental need, that to me there can be nothing more important than the commitment to food for everyone.
The Basics

We were able to reach 122,710 of the 171,000 people who are food insecure through our partner agencies, which includes meal sites, shelters, food pantries and senior centers across 31 Southern Colorado counties. Food insecurity, the inability to consistently access nutritious and adequate amounts of food necessary for a healthy life, can happen to anyone.

Last year, we distributed more than 21.4 million pounds to our food bank and agency partners, which equates to more than 17 million meals.

Our food comes from a variety of sources. We partner with local farmers, retailers, and grocers to pick up perishable products daily. We also partner nationally with Feeding America, the nation’s largest domestic hunger relief charity, to secure truckloads of donated products.

Buying power and efficiencies in procuring food allow $0.95 of every dollar donated to Care and Share go directly to food and food distribution programs. For every dollar donated, we procure 10 pounds of food. This is the equivalent of 8 meals. Only $0.05 of every dollar is used for fundraising and administrative costs.

“For me, the kindness and compassion that Elizabeth has shown... and Wanda... and the staff at West Side Cares, almost means more to me than the food.”

In 2014, we served an average of 230 families, comprised of 364 adults and 192 children, each month. Gifts of time, effort, food, and financial contributions pour into the pantry. More than 150 volunteers worked over 6,200 hours in the past year to serve those in need by providing food assistance in a kind, confidential and supportive environment. The pantry has little doubt that the Feeding America program, local vendors, community groups which sponsor regular food drives, and individuals with big hearts will meet the need. Receiving monthly Care and Share Food Bank TEFAP allocations means the difference between continually scrounging for food and stepping up to meet our county’s need. Gunnison Country Food Pantry is proud to count the good people at Care and Share Food Bank for Southern Colorado among the best of our friends.

Children’s Nutrition Initiative is aimed at alleviating childhood hunger when kids are out of school. We partner with schools, community centers, school districts, and cities to reach kids when they are most vulnerable: after school, on the weekend and in the summer.

“I know it’s a cliché but it’s true here. I mean, you guys act like a family. I love being a small part of it. And I love the efficiency here. We don’t waste anything; we recycle everything. Everything is about the dollar to buy more food to feed more people.”

We secure.

We buy and receive donated food, like produce, cereal, canned foods, frozen foods, pasta, rice, and meat from growers, ranchers and brokers throughout the country. We highly value these important relationships that enable us to put food on the table of our neighbors in need.

We recycle.

As an organization that distributes millions of pounds of food each year, we have the capacity to create a significant amount of waste. To mitigate this, we recycle cardboard, shrink wrap, and pallet lumber. These materials are baled and sold to create an additional revenue stream, enabling us to acquire more food.
